Ardrossan Lowline—Winners at Noorat Show's Eating Quality

Outstanding Eating Quality Competition Result

A 10 month old Lowline steer, sired by Ardrossan Overcast, won the Noorat Show's Eating Quality Competition, held in November 2016.

The competition was open to Beef or Dairy, any sex, size or age.

Two Porterhouse steaks were taken from the animals entered, after hanging for 2 weeks. One was cooked and tasted by a panel of 7 judges and the other exhibited raw on a plate for a popularity vote.

Ardrossan's Winning Eating Quality

The winning steer was raised on grass and only offered hay and ad lib grain for the last 4 weeks before processing.
